

Charles F. McDew

- Education Roosevelt University, Chicago, IL, BA, 1964
- National Endowment for the Humanities
The Civil Rights Movement
Kent State University, Kent, OH, 1986
- National Endowment for the Humanities
Study of African-American History
Harvard University, Cambridge MA, 1997
- Civil Rights Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC)
Chairman, 1961-1964
- Mississippi Community Foundation, Jackson, MS
Chairman, 1989-present
- Seminar in the Life and Times of Ms. Ella Baker
40th Anniversary of Founding of SNCC
Shaw University, Raleigh NC, Spring 2000
Chairman, Planning Committee
- Consultant Turner Network Television, Summer 1999 “Freedom Song,” Consultant to national cable TV production company in development and production of made for TV movie (available in video)
- National consultant for colleges and universities in development of academic courses in African-American history, diversity, human relations and civil rights
- Police Officers’ Standard Training Board, Minneapolis, MN Developed and taught required courses for police officers on community relations, diversity training and cultural awareness, 1985-present
- Academic Advisor, Metropolitan State University, Minneapolis, MN
1981-present
Developed and implemented programs to recruit and retain minority students for state university for adult learners

Teaching Metropolitan State University
Minneapolis, MN
1981-2006
Community faculty, teaching courses in African-American History, Human Relations, History of Civil Rights. Classes are always oversubscribed

National Endowment for the Humanities
Study of African-American History
Harvard University, Cambridge, MA, 2000

Guest Lecturer, colleges and universities all over US, in history, civil rights, intercultural and human relations. Colleges include Harvard, Stanford, University of Minnesota, University of Virginia, and many historically black colleges

Community
Organizer Director of community service organizations in Washington, DC
Cambridge, MA, Jacksonville, FL, Minneapolis, MN, 1965-1980